Experience

Self-Made Web Developer

Three years of solo web dev:
I'm a self-taught web developer with a strong focus on building local websites from the ground up. JavaScript has always been my passion, and I'm fluent in React, along with its ecosystem—Next,js Redux, React Query, React Router, and more. I thrive on fundamentals, constantly refining my craft while embracing new challenges. Now, I'm eager to transition from a solo journey into collaborative projects.

My Strength with JavaScript:
Before diving into React, I dedicated myself to mastering JavaScript, crafting several projects using vanilla JS and the MVC architecture to sharpen my skills.

Mastering React and Its Ecosystem:
I've built deep expertise in React's ecosystem, and my next goal is to master 3d universe like three.js and dive into backend development to further expand my full-stack abilities.
